

CCI's Crisis Management Seminar

"I am at a loss for adequate words to express our deep and heartfelt thanks to you for running together with us through this marathon of an ordeal. I would hate to think where we would be if it was not for you. You gave yourself to us in ways we will never forget; bringing the expertise we so woefully lacked."

(CEO of mission organization victimized by hostage-taking)

Are you responsible for the safety of missionaries? Aid workers? Short-term church volunteers? Are you exercising the best possible stewardship of their lives and ministries?

Missionaries, faith-based humanitarian and aid workers, short-term church volunteers and all Christians seeking to minister internationally are facing dual threats: An increasingly unstable and dangerous world, and an alarming trend of targeting of Christians by terrorist groups.

CCI's Crisis Management Seminar will prepare you to conduct risk assessments, develop policies and contingency plans, and to manage crises and emergencies ranging from natural disasters to terrorist attacks and hostage-taking. Case studies and exercises are used extensively.

Comments from our clients:

"Thanks so much; I am copying the CMT leader in Haiti as well as our Haiti Director here. Interesting that at our first CMT meeting on Wed morning, I followed your training principles verbatim as we set things up. I am so grateful for your training." (L.S.)

"Your group has been steadfast and impressive through this, it's a pleasure to assist." (FBI agent regarding CCI negotiation for missionary hostage)

"I wanted to take a moment to say thank you for all of the assistance you have provided to (us) for the past several weeks, and especially for conducting the (EZRA) risk assessment for us last week. All of our staff who participated in the (risk assessment) commented on how impressed they were with the tool." (W.V.D.)

The Crisis Management Seminar:

The CMS is a 3-day leadership-oriented course which provides participants with the knowledge, skills and abilities to develop a competent security and crisis management program.

Participants will be trained and prepared to serve on a Crisis Management Team in the most complex and critical events. Core components of the training include risk assessment (including using the EZRA risk assessment software program developed by CCI and provided to participants), developing appropriate policies and contingency planning, understanding the present-day terrorism threat, forming and leading crisis management teams, and using a crisis resolution protocol to guide response to emergencies. Case studies, role-playing and tabletop exercises are used extensively.

The Trainers:

For more than 25 years, CCI has been the original and premier provider of security and crisis management services to the Christian missionary, humanitarian and church sending communities. With an outstanding record of success and accomplishment, CCI assist these communities with:

- Risk assessment, site surveys and security assessments
- Policy development and contingency planning
- Training of staff, leaders and crisis management teams
- Management of major events, conferences and disaster response
- Resolution of hostage and kidnapping events, extortion and other threats

CCI's staff, all mature Christians with deep church commitments, possess an unmatched combination of professional training, expertise, and real-world "on the ground" experience. We have worked with Christian agencies all around the world and understand the threats, needs and realities facing these agencies.
